Kiwanis Club Hears Optimistic Addresses by Mayor Ansbomb, P. B. Fowler and Alfred Carmichael; Co-operation Emphasized as Factor in Creation of Prosperity; "City Beautiful Commission" Is Suggested.

Prospects for Victoria during the New Year were reviewed with optimism this afternoon before the Kiwanis Club by Mayor Ansbomb, P. B. Fowler, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Alfred Carmichael, past president of the Real Estate Board, who were guests at the weekly luncheon at the Empress Hotel. G. H. Stevens, president-elect of the Kiwanis Club, was chairman.

Mayor Ansbomb doubted ability to tell anything not already known regarding the prospects of Victoria for the coming year. "This I can say, whatever fortune may send us individually or collectively, our harvest and our happiness will be richer and greater if we work together for the welfare of the community as a whole," he remarked.

"As I have suggested during the past few days to the service clubs in the city, your elected representatives have a right to look to organizations such as yours for assistance and support in civic affairs, and I am hopeful that 1930 will see a real awakening amongst our young business men on public business, which—after all—is your business."

ONE MILL TAX CUT FORECAST BY ANSCOMB

City Council of 1930 Accept Standing and Other Committee Choices

Tax Reduction From 41 to 40 Mills Is Aim of Administration For 1930

Mayor Ansbomb's inaugural address, and the announcement of standing committees for the year were the chief items of business before the City Council for 1930, at its first meeting last night. Mayor Ansbomb forecast a one-mill reduction in the tax rate, and made brief reference to intended policies of the year. His address was as follows:

"While in the ordinary course of events it is general for the Mayor to make an extended inaugural address, I propose to depart from the generally accepted principle in this instance and confine myself to a few remarks, and those very brief, on the main issues confronting us.

"I take it as fitting that I should express my appreciation to the electors for the confidence expressed in returning me by acclamation. This gesture of approval, naturally, I highly appreciate.

"May I extend to Alderman Feden my good wishes at his continuing success at the polls and the hope that his return to the council may be most pleasant."

DRIVERLESS AUTOMOBILE OBEYS SPOKEN WORDS AS IT MOVES

New York, Jan. 7 (Canadian Press).—A driverless car here obeyed spoken words last night, moving backward and forward and turning on its lights at instructions dictated through a telephone.

R. H. Maxwell, Westinghouse research engineer, exhibited the invention in the Grand Central Palace in the organization's Light Institute. He worked with one of the 1929 models being shown at the National Automobile Show.

At the command to move forward, spoken into the telephone, the car went ahead until told to halt. It was backed up forty feet, halted, and the lights were turned on and off at the word of the "driver."

LIGHT IN TREE
The telephone was wired to a light source, hidden in a miniature tree. Each word flashed the light, the combinations of one to four flashes operating through the light-sensitive cell.

LAW TEST ON BUSES

Supreme Court to Decide the Legality of Blue Line Franchise

Action to quash the Oak Bay By-law under which the Veterans' Taxi and Sightseeing Company operates its Blue Line buses along routes served by street cars is about to be taken in the Supreme Court by the British Columbia Electric Railway Company Limited. It was reported this morning.

As a counterblast the Blue-Line this morning commenced collection of signatures to a petition to the council supporting submission of a referendum on bus services to the voters of Oak Bay. Several hundred signatures had been secured by noon.

The action of the B.C. Electric Railway is taken on grounds that the municipal council is not empowered to grant a franchise of the type conferred on the Veterans' Taxi and Sightseeing Company.

Railway Belt and Peace River Block Revenues Involved

Ottawa, Jan. 7.—Settlement of the problems surrounding the return of the Railway Belt Lands and the Peace River Block to British Columbia is held in abeyance pending the return to the capital of the two negotiators who are at present most intimately concerned with it.

Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, in Toronto and Hon. Nelson Lougheed, Minister of Public Works of British Columbia, is in Chicago.

It is likely the agreement, which was drawn up with the Martin report as its basis, will be signed sometime next week, probably next Wednesday.

There is some talk of Premier S. F. Tolmie of British Columbia journeying from the coast to Ottawa to affix his signature to the settlement.

APPEALS DECIDED BY COURT

Award in Big Missouri Action Is Reduced From $100,000 to $16,315

Other Judgments Given in Cases Heard at Vancouver Sitings

Nineteen judgments were given by the Court of Appeal this morning in actions heard in the fall sittings of the Court at Vancouver. William Harris, the aged prospector of Port Angeles who sued Daniel Lindenberg and others on a claim for $100,000 as a one-third share of an interest in the Big Missouri group of mines, had his judgment award of $100,000 scaled down to $16,315 on review by the Appeal Court. The majority judgment of the court, given by Chief Justice MacDonald today, awards Mr. Harris five ninety-fifths of $300,000, the sum recovered for the claims involved. Mr. Justice Gailher would have allowed the plaintiff-respondent one-sixth, or $50,000.

SKATERS ARE READY FOR ICE IN VANCOUVER

Weather Man Tells People to Look For More Cold Days

Vancouver, Jan. 7.—A continuance of freezing weather is forecast for the Vancouver district by E. B. Shearman, meteorologist here. A wave of chill and freezing weather continues to sweep southward, and fair and decidedly cold days will be the rule in Vancouver for nearly a week, it is stated.

Continued prevalence of the cold spell, as forecast, will probably allow skating on Trout Lake, Beaver Lake in Stanley Park, and other bodies of water in the vicinity of Vancouver within a day or two.

The cold of the preceding days grew several degrees more intense on Monday, as the mercury dropped to thirty-four degrees below zero, and the cold is general, rather than centred in any one province.

WIRE REPAIRED
After forty-eight hours, during which wires along the Fraser Canyon snapped repeatedly under the weight of snow and ice, both Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways have re-established normal wire communication between Vancouver and the east.

Trains of both lines are due in Vancouver within a few minutes of scheduled times.

The temperature at Prince George was thirty-three degrees below zero.

NEW HEALTH CAMPAIGN IN TERMINAL CITY

Vancouver, Jan. 7.—As soon as signs ordered from the provincial authorities are received and erected, the statue prohibiting spitting on the sidewalks will be rigidly enforced, it has been decided by the health committee of the Vancouver City Council.

Prosecutions for infractions of this regulation are to be pushed to the limit, the aldermen state.

Dr. F. T. Underhill, medical health officer, reported 129 cases of contagious diseases in the city from December 9 to January 5, with one death resulting from diphtheria and two from meningitis.

Craft Aground Off California May Be Seized

San Francisco, Jan. 7.—Confiscation of the power-boater Mianus, stranded since last Friday in Half Moon Bay, south of here, by Federal officers on a ground of improper customs procedure, loomed today.

Federal authorities said the craft, a registered in the coastwise fishing trade, had picked up a cargo of liquor at Mazatlan, Mexico, and cleared for Vancouver, B.C.

A coastguard patrol boat was standing by the Mianus today. No liquor was found aboard the craft.

FRENCH WATCH HIS COURSE ON REPARATIONS

PREMIER ANDRE TARDIEU

Paris, Jan. 7.—The Petit Parisien today said a report of a conversation at The Hague in which Premier Tardieu was said to have stated the French agreed with the British point of view on the reparations question was scarcely believable. If it were true, the paper remarked, it proved the French delegation represented not only the Government, but the spirit of pacifist France.

Vancouver Soon To Increase Its Force of Police

Vancouver, Jan. 7.—In response to an application from the Vancouver police commission for twenty-five additional men for the department, the police and traffic committee has consented to recommend to the council that fifteen men be added to the permanent police force and the balance of the number considered when the estimates come down.

Vancouver, Jan. 7.—Armed bandits continue to rob and terrorize citizens in all parts of Vancouver, according to reports made to the police.

An employee of the Columbia Taxicab, Homer and Pender Streets, discovered two men stealing one of his cars from the taxi stand and gave chase in another car. The stolen car was driven east.

The pursuer overtook it at Pender Street and Gore Avenue, where he was confronted with a revolver in the hands of one of the men and was compelled to abandon the chase.

The police were notified, but the missing car has not yet been recovered.

Miss Kathleen Mulcahy and Miss A. Cole, nurses at St. Mary's Hospital, Westminister, were held up by two men at Clinton and Albert Streets at 9:15 last night and were robbed of their purses and small sums of money. The men had followed the two women from a street car at Hastings and Clinton Streets.

THREATENED WITH REVOLVER
W. D. Newell, Cornwall Street, was held up by two masked men at Twenty-fifth Avenue and Willow Street and robbed of $10. One man covered Mr. Newell with a revolver.

SEARCH MADE FOR TRAPPER IN WILDS

Vancouver, Jan. 7 (Canadian Press).—Somewhere in the snow-covered forested country twenty miles north of Pitt Lake is a solitary trapper and prospector, Marcus Cox, Balsam Street, whose return to Vancouver is long overdue and who, it is feared, has become lost in the wild country in which his trap lines lie.

To-day two provincial officers, Constable J. W. Hooker of Pitt Meadows, and Constable Frank Urquhart of Port Coquitlam, will leave on an extended search for the missing trapper. It is expected ten days will be required to make a thorough search of the district.

Cox is quite familiar with the country in which he is reported missing, and he has a chain of cabins which he uses when on the line. He also has plenty of provisions.

His wife, however, is alarmed, as Cox had intended to come home for Christmas and the New Year holidays. He was last seen at Alvin, at the head of Pitt Lake, November 15, and was then on his way about twenty miles further from the lakehead. There has been bad weather in that area recently, and from ten to fifteen feet of snow has fallen.

TO NAME WOMAN SENATOR

Expectation Is One Will Be Appointed Before Ottawa Session Begins

Mrs. Gordon Wright, Rowell's Sister, Mentioned For the First Honor

Ottawa, Jan. 7.—"Whether or not a woman senator will be appointed before the opening of Parliament is not definite, but it is presumed this will be the case," said The Ottawa Citizen to-day. The paper added:

"To the list of those already mentioned for the Senate are added, in the gossip here, the names of Mrs. Gordon Wright of London, sister of Hon. N. W. Rowell, E.C., and Mrs. W. C. Kennedy of Windsor, whose late husband was Minister of Railways."

ACCLAMATION FOR MR. CRERAR

MR. MOTHERWELL EXPECTS SOON TO LEAVE HOSPITAL

Ottawa, Jan. 7.—Rapidly recovering from an attack of pneumonia, Hon. W. Motherwell, Federal Minister of Agriculture, spent his seventeenth birthday in the Civic Hospital here yesterday.

On a table at his bedside a vase held a carnation for each year of the Minister's life. They had been gathered from the flower beds of the Dominion Experimental Farm greenhouse, a stone's throw from the hospital.

It is the expectation of attending physicians that Mr. Motherwell will have sufficiently recovered to permit his discharge from hospital within two weeks.

COLD TO CONTINUE

Temperature Rises to 29 While Other Parts of Continent Suffer Cold

While the mercury continued to drop on the mainland and over a widespread area on the remainder of the continent to-day, Victoria was afforded slight relief from the cold spell, although the thermometer remained below freezing point.

Under the influence of bright sunshine the temperature rose to 29 degrees at noon to-day, and with practically no wind, the atmosphere was brisk and pleasant.

COLDER TO-NIGHT
No sudden change in conditions within the next twenty-four or thirty-six hours was expected by F. J. Denison, superintendent at the Dominion Meteorological Observatory. He predicted a slight drop in temperature towards evening, depending to some extent on the possibilities of a clear or cloudy sky.

On the mainland, at Vancouver, the mercury registered sixteen degrees this morning which was a two-degree drop from the minimum yesterday. Victoria's minimum to-day was 28 degrees, registered early this morning as compared with 23 degrees yesterday.

On the coast the cold wave has spread as far south as Portland, where the temperature was 26 degrees to-day; while it has affected the whole continent eastward to the Great Lakes and as far south as the Gulf of Mexico in the interior.

"Victoria seems to have escaped the more rigorous aspects of the cold snap," Mr. Denison said. "Indications at present are that we will have little change within the next day or so, and a slight drop in temperature towards evenings may be expected."

Pope Talks With Young Belgian Who Will Be Wife of Italian Crown Prince

Vatican City, Jan. 7.—Princess Marie Jose of Belgium, who to-morrow will become the bride of Humbert, Prince of Piedmont and heir to the Italian throne, was received in private audience this afternoon by Pope Pius XI. With her were her father, King Albert; her mother, Queen Elizabeth; Prince Leopold and his wife, Princess Astrid and Prince Charles, her other brother, whose title is Count of Flanders.

It was the first visit of the Belgian royal family to the Pope since 1922 and it was accompanied by the same elaborate ceremony which marked the welcome of the Holy See to King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena of Italy December 5.

The audience was private and most cordial. His Holiness was interested particularly in Princess Marie Jose, to whom he imparted a special blessing in behalf of her wedding to-morrow. He also made her a gift of a religious character.

The Pope recalled the princess's previous visit, when she was only fifteen years old, and said he knew she would be happy with Humbert. He remarked he looked forward to seeing her husband and her again after the wedding. That visit to be one of the first post-wedding ceremonies.

WOMAN SHOT BY THUG MAKES FIGHT FOR LIFE

Mrs. R. Perrin in Vancouver Hospital; Husband Is Recovering

Vancouver, Jan. 7 (C.P.).—There is a slight improvement in the condition of Mrs. Roderick Perrin, who was shot and seriously wounded by an unidentified bandit at the rear of her home, 425 East Twenty-third, at 1 a.m. Sunday, according to a report from the Vancouver General Hospital.

Mr. Perrin, who was also wounded by the bandit, is continuing to improve and is expected to recover. Police are continuing their efforts to apprehend the gunman, having followed many clues without result. A bullet found at the scene of the attack, which was thought might have come from the overcoat of the bandit, has been traced and has been found to be worthless as a clue, having come from an old coat which had been lying in the lane for some time.

Citizens, who have been aroused by the brutality of the attack on Mr. and Mrs. Perrin, are working to aid the police and are furnishing all the information they can obtain in connection with the case.

REPORT FROM MASSEY

Ottawa, Jan. 7.—A report has been received by the Department of External Affairs from Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian Minister at Washington, which it is understood relates to the proposals of the United States for improving prohibition enforcement.

It is described as a preliminary report on the proposal that the ports of entry into the United States are to be increased and the border patrol consolidated and made larger.

VIEWED FAVORABLY
Washington, Jan. 7.—The United States Treasury Department has submitted to the Canadian Government its detailed programme for improving prohibition enforcement along the border and, although official advice is still lacking, has been informed the plan is regarded favorably at Ottawa.

MENNONITES FIND BARS UP IN CANADA

Ottawa, Jan. 7 (Canadian Press).—"No permits have been issued to Mennonites," declared W. J. Egan, Deputy Minister of Immigration, here to-day when asked to comment on the Canadian Press cable dispatch which, quoting The Vossische Zeitung of Berlin, said a proportion of the 3,000 Mennonites who had lately moved from Russia to Germany would proceed to Canada.

Departmental officers were emphatic that as far as the Canadian Immigration authorities were concerned, there was no basis for the story.

The recent verdict of Hon. Robert Forke when he was Minister of Immigration still held good, it was said.

The dispatch yesterday from Berlin said: "The embarkation of nearly 3,000 German Mennonites for Canada and Brazil will begin this week, according to the newspaper Vossische Zeitung. These are the refugee peasants from Russia, who since their departure from Russia have been living in camps in Germany. The passage of the emigrants will be provided by arrangement between the German Government and Canadian Pacific Railway, suggested by funds supplied by the Mennonite organizations."

"The necessary permits have already been received from the Government of Canada and from some of the Brazilian states."

"The newspaper does not state, however, the proportion of the number going to the Dominion, though it is understood by far the large number will make their way to the Mennonite centres of western Canada."

FRENCH RETAIN FAITH IN SUBMARINE SECURITY

She Demands Superiority Over Italy; Undersea Craft Now One of Her Main Fighting Power Sources.

Paris, Jan. 7.—The faith of France in the submarine, and her determination to maintain undersea strength second to none among European powers, threatens to torpedo the forthcoming London Naval Conference unless important concessions all around can be achieved.

France will enter the conference in accord with the principle of disarmament, but will insist upon adequate defence. Her argument will be that the submarine is her chief defensive weapon and her claims are almost certain to be challenged by Italy and Great Britain.

Preliminary negotiations between France and Italy for a basis of policy at the conference have broken down, according to observers here. Italy is expected to demand absolute parity with France and will not agree with Great Britain and the United States on the question of the abolition of submarines unless France is willing to make concessions.

The French press is not optimistic over the results of the conference, although hoping for the best. Any attempt to bar the submarine question in the negotiations will be frustrated by France, judging from political expressions here.

PRESS NOT OVER HOPEFUL

The French official position is believed reflected by the report of J. L. Duménil, now in the hands of the Finance Committee of the Chamber of Deputies. Revealing the pitiful weakness of the French navy in all major categories of fighting craft, it seems to show that France can under no condition consent to relinquish the submarine. His arguments are for the "protection of France's colonial empire."

Duménil reveals that the French navy, with regard to surface craft, consists of six capital ships, now almost obsolete, one aeroplane carrier, and cruiser and destroyer tonnage well below Italy's.

FRANCE HAS SEVEN-NINE SUBMARINES

It is in the submarine category that France has her naval strength. She has, or is building, the report shows, seventy-nine submarines and actually leads the world in submarine tonnage. Italy has only thirty-four submarines, and most of them are small.

Italy, on the other hand, is much stronger than France in surface craft and may be expected at the London conference to lean more to the American and British viewpoint on submarines than France will. It probably is responsible for the difficulty in preliminary Franco-Italian negotiations. France is really superior to Italy, as the two navies stand to-day, but without submarines France would be greatly inferior.

This latter position is one France will never support, however it might explode the conference, for it is no secret that in protection for her colonies France does not overlook Italian and German influences.

UNDERSEA STRENGTH COMPARED

Duménil says that France's seventy-nine submarines have a tonnage total of 82,349, while America has ninety-seven submarines totaling 89,978 tons; Japan sixty-three totaling 75,787 tons and Italy thirty-four totaling 27,409 tons.

Duménil warns that Britain, the United States and Italy appear ready to join in contesting the use of submarines, and if France has a friend for her submarines in the conference it will have to be Japan.

France will not lose thought of the German position. It is pointed out here that while the German navy does not look very formidable now, it will be important when Germany has completed all the cruisers allowed her under the Treaty of Versailles. Germany is not idle, and when she has fulfilled her programme the French navy will be superior to the German navy only because of her submarines. This is something that France is prepared to bring sharply before the delegates at the London conference.

FRANCE FOURTH NAVAL POWER

With her submarines, Duménil figures that France may be regarded as the fourth naval power, with a slight edge on Italy and a useful superiority over Germany. Without them she would be inferior to Italy and not much more than equal to Germany. These are the only two powers that France fears on the sea.

According to 1928 Duménil figures, France is spending 2,583,000,000 francs; the British Admiralty appropriation is 7,000,000,000 francs and that of the United States is fixed at 10,000,000,000.

In every department of naval strength except submarines, France is hopelessly behind Britain, the United States and Japan. It would appear, therefore, that unless France and Italy can reach an agreement, the conference will be a failure.

Pictured here is a wooden model, in considerably reduced scale, of the most formidable French submarine, "Le Plongeur." Built in the nautical salon of the Grand Palais, the craft has attracted international attention, just as the submarine question in general will be a feature of the disarmament conference in London. Upper right is Senator Henry Berenger, former ambassador to the United States, who says France must maintain a naval position between those of the United States and Japan.

ence will fail, as the three-power naval conference in Geneva in 1927 failed. So far as France is concerned, hopes for general world disarmament go down to the submarine.

FRENCH VIEW STATED

Another report indicating that France wants new parity ratings has been placed before the Naval Commission of the Senate. It was prepared under the direction of Senator de Kerzeve, chairman of the Senate Committee, and apparently aims to combat French claims for naval parity with Britain. Quoted by Senator Henry Berenger, former ambassador to Washington, the report, in making comparisons, takes into consideration area of territory, length of coast and communications, external trade and sea traffic. The conclusion is that, taking Italian naval requirements as unity, requirements of the five powers are: British Empire, 10; United States, 4.2; France, 3; Japan, 1.6; and Italy 1. The French senate indicates that France desires a navy second to that of the United States, in commenting on the report, M. Berenger said:

"France ought to obtain at London a naval position intermediary between those of the United States and Japan, but incontestably superior to that of Britain. Empire, 10; United States, 4.2; France, 3; Japan, 1.6; and Italy 1. The French senate indicates that France desires a navy second to that of the United States, in commenting on the report, M. Berenger said:

LESS RUM NOW IN WASHINGTON THAN REPORTED

Grand Jury Makes Finding After Three Months of Investigation

Washington, Jan. 7.—This city, pictured recently in the Senate as a vice-ridden liquor oasis, was reported yesterday by a federal grand jury to be not half as bad as it had been painted. The report was made to the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia at the conclusion of a tempestuous three-month session in which the grand jury heard charges of police failure to enforce the prohibition laws and the alleged bungling of the investigations of two mysterious deaths.

The jury, which directed police and federal prohibition agents to make a special investigation of forty places that had been described as "notorious booze selling resorts," said: "While there are numerous violations of the prohibition law in the District of Columbia, conditions are certainly no worse, and are probably better than those existing in other sections of the United States."

AT THE THEATRES

"BULLDOG DRUMMOND" MYSTERY FILM IS NOW SHOWING AT DOMINION

Every important member of the cast of "Bulldog Drummond," the mystery thriller which is showing at the Dominion Theatre, with Ronald Colman as star, is an actor of considerable stage experience.

Colman himself was a prominent juvenile on the English stage before coming to the United States and got his first chance in pictures after Henry King, the director, saw him in a New York production and signed him to play opposite Lillian Gish in "The White Sister." Joan Bennett, who plays the leading feminine role opposite him, is making her first appearance in films, having recently completed playing in "Jarnegan" on Broadway with her father, the famous Richard Bennett.

FILM STAR COULD NOT RECOGNIZE OWN VOICE ON TALKIES

With the advent of talking pictures, stars are discovering that they had false impressions of the sound of their voices. Patsy Ruth Miller, who plays the leading feminine role in "The Fall of Eve," the Columbia all-talking picture showing at the Playhouse Theatre to-day, felt a peculiar sensation when she found that the childish treble she thought she talked in was really a very different sound.

"The first time I ever heard my voice over the mike," said Patsy Ruth Miller, "I didn't know it was I. I thought I could see my lips moving. It didn't seem possible that that voice belonged to me. For the moment I thought they had taken somebody else's voice but people who were with me claimed that my voice over the mike sounded exactly the same as I do when talking in life."

GUY OLIVER IS REAL VETERAN OF MOVIE WORLD

Guy Oliver, who has appeared in more motion pictures than any other movie actor, has just completed his 31st film role in "Sunset Pass," the latest Zane Grey story filmed by Paramount with Jack Holt in the lead. Oliver can't recall all the roles he has portrayed but recently made note of the fact that he had played forty very important star during the fourteen years he has worked before the camera. "Sunset Pass" is being shown at the Columbia Theatre.

GORGEOUS COSTUMES IN PARIS PICTURE AT THE COLISEUM

The Coliseum's first all-talking, all-singing and all-dancing film, a picture entitled "Woman to Woman," was enthusiastically received last night by a large, first night house, drawn out by the announcements that the beautiful and talented Betty Compson was appearing in the title role. Last night's audience was given a rare treat, for seldom has so fine a picture been seen in Victoria. It is modern in the highest degree and yet it has its serious side and teaches a great human lesson.

Added to this stellar feature attraction is a comedy entitled "Midnight Daddies," starring Alma Bennett, a comedy which is uproariously funny and which kept the first night audience in roars of laughter. The Coliseum talking machine is working perfectly and superbly reproduces the snappy and tuneful dance numbers which are seen in the gay cafes of Paris during the war. A chorus of beautiful girls in lavish costumes of silks and feathers and jewels, appears in these numbers and are seen in some of the best "vaudeville" style produced on the screen. Beautiful Betty Compson is more lovely than ever in her latest role and gives a noteworthy performance as the beautiful Parisienne in search of love and thrill. She appears in several exotic costumes which are the last word in feminine luxury.

DORIS HILL PLAYS HER SECOND ROLE IN FILM MYSTERY

The first all-talking role Doris Hill ever played was in a mystery picture, "The Studio Murder Mystery." Now she is in another one, "Darkened Rooms." Winsome little Miss Hill is one of the supporting players to Evelyn Brent in the picture. "Darkened Rooms" is based on a novel which ran in serial form in Cosmopolitan Magazine. It is based on the evils of fake spiritualism. Miss Hill is the former chorus girl in the picture who persuades Neil Hamilton, the fake spiritualist, to give up the false business after he brings grief to Miss Hill, a daughter of wealth.

A riot of fun, the play convulsed with laughter the big audience that greeted the company in its second presentation at the Variety under the direction of Mr. Leitch.

ENLARGED ACRE CROPS ADVISED

W. Sanford Evans Urges Saanich Farmers to Increase Production

Increased production per acre should be the objective of the progressive farmers of Saanich, a well-attended meeting of the Saanich Board of Trade was last night told by W. Sanford Evans, British Columbia Fruit "advocate," in the course of a brief address at the West Saanich Women's Institute Hall. Rev. M. W. J. Bruce, president of the board, was in the chair.

Mr. Evans urged development of a spirit of co-operation between the various districts and communities of Canada.

"The more the people of Canada can keep in touch with each other, the better it will be in every way for each district and community as a whole," he said.

It is time that we realized that we have far more in common than we have about which to differ. This is one of the most practical lessons which any of us have to learn. The fundamental questions of production and marketing affect every community in the Dominion. There is far too great a tendency to look for salvation from others, who are expected to effect a better condition of affairs for us," Mr. Evans remarked.

WORK LAND TO LIMIT

"The one essential for the most favorable conditions in Canada is the maximum production, per acre, that any land can be made to produce. There is nothing in this Dominion that should be regarded as of greater importance than the increase of yield. If you will only concentrate upon doubling the output of our land, we will have solved the problem of food and fiber for our people."

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are hard of hearing or have head noises or to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmit (double strength), and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water, and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Closed nostrils should open, breathing becomes easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial. (Adv.)

WOMAN KENYA CHURCH WORKER IS MURDERED

Police of British Colony in
Africa Searching For Native

Nairobi, Kenya Colony, Jan. 7.—Kenya Colony police to-day pressed investigation of the death of Miss Hilda Stumpf, United States missionary, whose body was found in a house of the African Inland Mission Station at Kijabe, fifty miles away. She is believed to have been murdered.

There was evidence the woman had been assaulted. Authorities said she apparently had suffocated after the attack. They believe her assailant to have been a native. Search for him in nearby villages is under way.

Her age was given here as sixty-three.

Frederick Lanning, business manager of the African Inland Mission in New York, said Miss Stumpf had done secretarial work for the direction of the Kijabe Mission. He said he had known her personally and that she was a valuable and efficient worker.

"She was last home on furlough in 1925," he said. "I am unable to say just what part of the United States she came from, although I believe she had a sister in Florida."

"I am almost sure she was not over fifty-three years of age."

He said the fact that for the last ten years the British Government had taken fingerprints of all natives working for white people should aid in the investigation.

The African Inland Mission headquarters in New York Friday received a cablegram, unsigned, stating Miss Stumpf had been murdered. The message was in code and indicated she had first been attacked and then smothered to death.

EVERETT MAN DROWNS WHEN CAR WRECKED

Police of British Colony in
Africa Searching For Native

Everett, Wash., Jan. 7.—The body of Ben Smathers, Everett, transfer man, who turned state's evidence in the famous Everett liquor conspiracy case, was found in twelve feet of water in Deadwater Slough on a highway east of Everett yesterday. Smathers' closed automobile had torn off fifty feet of railing before going into the water.

The accident occurred Saturday night and was witnessed by Jack Swan, who summoned aid. Firemen grappled for the machine and recovered it without finding the body.

Smathers had left Everett about 6 o'clock Saturday night for his farm near Snohomish. He was driving alone.

Authorities said the car apparently had been traveling at high speed close to the sidewalk when it left the road.

The top of the car was torn off when it struck a pile in going into the water.

WIFE IS IN TORONTO

Toronto, Jan. 7.—Mrs. William H. Lloyd of this city yesterday said she was positive the man found in Quebec City bearing the Canadian Legion membership card of William Henry Lloyd was her husband, who left Toronto December 15 last year for Ottawa, where he was going in search of employment.

Mrs. Lloyd said she had received a letter from her husband on December 24 from Belleville, Ont., in which he asked for financial assistance as he had been in an automobile accident. Since that message, however, nothing had been heard of Mr. Lloyd.

The missing man was prominent in local Canadian Legion activities.

He had done occasional teaching work for the Toronto Board of Education up to last April.

Mrs. Lloyd could not account for the religious medals the man found in Quebec was reported as wearing.

Picked up by a constable on a vagrancy charge in the vicinity of the Union Station in Quebec City, the man, who appeared to be about forty-five years of age and was poorly dressed, astonished and puzzled police officers by addressing them in Latin and Greek.

At first it was believed he was Rev. Father Henry, a priest of the Roman Catholic Church, but later it was learned he was a layman.

Patience questioning in English and French at length showed him to be English-speaking but beyond the disconnected phrases, he could not be induced to say anything that would throw any light on his identity and extraordinary plight. He was taken to a hospital.

MEDALS FOUND

In one of the man's pockets was found a card of the Canadian Legion, Ottawa Branch, to the effect that the original bearer was William Henry Lloyd, war-time sapper of the Royal Engineers. Medals, on the other hand, lent to the suggestion he was a priest.

A telegram to the Baseline Order in Toronto was promptly answered by the arrival in Quebec of Rev. Father Dillon, a close acquaintance of the missing superior.

Father Dillon stood by the patient's bedside and talked with him, but turned to the physician and said:

"No, it is not he."

The patient apparently was in the last stages of starvation when found and there is a possibility he may die.

U.S. EXPENSES
QUESTION ASKED

Washington, Jan. 7 (Canadian Press).—Secretary Mellon was asked yesterday by Representative McClintock, Democrat, Oklahoma, to supply a list of all "dollar a year" employees of the Government during the World War, together with the amount of expenses drawn by each.

The request followed the submission by the Oklahoma man of a series of questions dealing with naval affairs to William B. Shearer, big navy advocate, before the latter delivered the address in New York Sunday. Among the questions was one asking for elaboration of the charge that Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, had drawn $250,000 in expenses while serving the Government for $1 a year. In reply, Shearer said Government records of October, 1919, contained the vouchers totaling $250,000 and bearing the initials "C.M.S."

U.S. General Says
British Army Now
Has Lead in Tanks

Washington, Jan. 7.—Army tank supremacy was conceded to the British by Major-General C. C. Williams, chief of army ordnance, before the House sub-committee on appropriations which yesterday considered the annual supply bill of the War Department.

While the United States army had a tank capable of between forty and fifty miles an hour on open fields and seventy miles an hour on roads, the general said it was still in an experimental stage. No other country, he said, had developed a tank of similar speed ranges, and he recommended purchase of a number of the new vehicles for complete tests by the ordnance department.

"We are developing the various vehicles that a mechanized force would have to be equipped with," the general said in explaining tank development work. "But we have not advanced nearly as far in that matter as the British have advanced. They have been at it longer and have spent a great deal more money on it than anybody else, and they have made more progress than anybody else, I think."

Greater uniformity in phraseology and more accurate definitions of technical matters are desired by the surveying profession in the interests of good law.

MAN FOUND WANDERING IS WAR VETERAN

William H. Lloyd of Ottawa and Toronto Near Death in Quebec

Ottawa, Jan. 7.—William Henry Lloyd, whose Canadian Legion membership card was found on an emaciated man thought to be a priest discovered wandering in Quebec City, was identified here yesterday afternoon as a classical scholar holding a B.A. degree from Oxford University.

He was discharged of Toronto the Civic Hospital here last year and sent to Toronto, where he was thought to have applied for a teaching position in Upper Canada College. His movements during the past eight or ten months were unknown to Legion officials here.

TO LIMIT SIZE OF BATTLESHIPS IS NEW PLAN

London Times Suggests Five-power Conference Set Lower Tonnage Mark

London, Jan. 7.—The London Times to-day asks the question of smaller battleships be brought before the five-power naval conference, which will open here in two weeks.

"The Washington treaty has left one loose and usefully trailing," says the paper. "It was part of the proposed plan of its American promoters to confine the first experiment in the limitation of arms to 'existing naval strength.' There is no other explanation why the maximum tonnage—and therefore in practice the minimum tonnage—of a battleship should have been fixed at 35,000 tons. Indeed, no scientific reason has ever been advanced why a battleship should be even half that size."

GROWTH SINCE 1906

Pointing out the original dreadnought of 1906 was little more than half the size of the latest battleship and that the new German Ersatz Prinzess is only 10,000 tons. The Times says:

"It would be encouraging to hear the British Government was proposing to reduce the tonnage permitted to a capital unit by not less than half and it would be interesting to know what objections to such a proposal could be taken to the proposal."

NEW LITHIUM
METHOD MEANS
BIG PROGRESS

Winnipeg, Jan. 7 (Canadian Press).—The information received from New York that a method has been perfected by which lithium can be extracted from the waste of the soda ash industry at about $15 a ton whole-sale has created widespread interest among the mining fraternity of Manitoba.

The reason for the particular interest in Manitoba is due to the fact that according to the most authentic information available, more than sixty per cent of the world's known commercial lithium deposits are located in the Winnipeg and Bird River districts, with 100 miles from the city of Winnipeg.

Lithium is found in three different kinds of rock, lepidolite, zinwaldite and apatite. The lithium content of these rocks is of course quite small and various methods have caused the price to be as high as it has always been sold by the ounce or by the pound. This recovery from the rock has been carried out mainly in Europe, especially in England and Germany, to which countries the lithium containing ores have been shipped. In 1927 about sixty tons of ore was shipped, and the quantity is expected to be much higher this year, while it is understood contracts have been entered into calling for the delivery of several thousand tons of crude lithium during 1930.

$240 A POUND

It is important the distinction between lithium and lithum should be kept in mind. Lithum is a mineral salt, but lithium is a metal recovered from the lithium salts. Up to about time ago the metal was so costly it was quoted at $240 a pound, but according to the announcement made by Dr. W. C. McClelland, professor of chemistry, before the New York Electrical Society, the metal lithium can now be recovered at about $15 a pound.

While the demand for lithium, the mineral salt, is naturally limited, the demand for the metal lithium, with its tremendous range of possibilities, is practically unlimited, and the knowledge that lithium is a metal, and that quantities of the lithium bearing ores are creating widespread interest.

Lithium is the lightest of all known minerals, being only about half the weight of water. It is a soft, silvery-white metallic element, and its principal use is in alloys, particularly as an alloy in steel making. It loses its softness when combined with other metals, and it has increased the lifting power of helium gas about fifteen per cent by one of its peculiarities, which is its absorption of gaseous impurities.

The Manitoba lithium ores of a certain minimum content have been selling at $30 a ton at the rail head at Lac du Bonnet.

LAND SURVEYORS
ASK CHANGES BE MADE IN ACTS

Vancouver, Jan. 7.—Revision of several provincial acts is sought by the Corporation of British Columbia Land Surveyors. A committee which has been studying the problem will report at the annual meeting of the corporation on January 9 and 10.

The acts in question are the Land Act, Land Registry Act, Water Act, Minerals Act, Pioneers Act, and others that lay down law covering the business of surveying in its various aspects.

Greater uniformity in phraseology and more accurate definitions of technical matters are desired by the surveying profession in the interests of good law.

U.B.C. BOARD MAKES CUT IN ITS ESTIMATES

Governors Soon Will Talk
Over Financial Requirements
With Hon. J. Hinchcliffe

Vancouver, Jan. 7.—The board of governors of the University of British Columbia probably will meet Hon. J. Hinchcliffe, Minister of Education, in Victoria, within ten days to continue discussions relating to the possible curtailment of the 1930-31 estimates of the university.

Dr. L. S. Kilnick, university president, is in receipt of a letter from the Minister asking the board meet him to present the revisions in the estimates, which he requested at a meeting prior to the end of last year. The revisions, according to Dr. Kilnick, have been made.

Mr. Hinchcliffe has been concerned with the curtailment of university costs for some time. He has suggested the board consider limiting the attendance order to lessen the need for new buildings.

Business More Than Trebles During Hectic Last Year On Vancouver Stock Exchange

Vancouver, Jan. 7.—A babel of shouting voices—scurrying messengers—alps of paper passed from hand to hand—figures chalked rapidly on a great green board—millions of dollars are changing hands. Such is the outward countenance of one of the most perfect-functioning business machines in the world—the stock exchange.

In the perfection of this smoothly-operating system has gone more than 150 years of experience—improvement born in the throes of tremendous trading—volume of business transacted which would leave in a befuddled daze, the old-fashioned, leisurely broker of the English coffee-house days.

COLORFUL HISTORY.
The first stock exchange was founded in London in 1773, a century and a half ago. Previous to this, brokers held casual meetings in some nearby coffee-house. They dealt principally in government securities.

The exchange grew rapidly. It established affiliations with the Dutch and soon assumed international importance. As volume of business grew, changes were imperative to keep pace with speeding business. Plans were tried and rejected. Other systems submitted which proved a success. The telegraph and telephone gave wings to commerce. Improved cable service speeded international trading. The ticker flashed market quotations to distant points.

When the Vancouver Stock Exchange was formed in 1907, under Provincial Government charter, it started with the full advantage of these years of experience in older exchanges. There were but twelve seats. Its growth was rapid. To-day it has assumed, with other great public institutions, a vital place in the commerce of Western Canada. Whence its phenomenal growth. Volume of business in 1928 was $890,304.75; in 1929, $36,580,967.50 and in 1929, $129,748,630.16—more than treble that of the year before.

SIMPLE IN PRINCIPLE.
While the ramifications of stock exchange trading are intricate and far-reaching, the basis of its operations is simple. The stock exchange is a market place for the buying and selling of stocks. The client places his selling order for stock with his broker. This order is transported to the "floor" of the exchange, where it is offered for sale by the broker's representative. Should another broker hold a buying order for this stock at market, the sale is completed and recorded by the exchange. The price paid for the stock is immediately chalked up on the board and broadcast by telephone and ticker. This becomes the official quotation for this particular stock.

The price of stocks are governed by supply and demand. Buying and selling orders set the price. The investing public controls the price. When buying orders pour in and selling orders are few, prices rise. The price quotation for a stock is no more or less than what the public will. As an institution, the Vancouver Stock Exchange owns no stock in any company, sponsors no stock flotation, favors no broker, expresses no opinion about individual stocks. It accepts no responsibility for the rise and fall of prices. It does seek to prevent price manipulation unfair to the investors. It maintains rigid rules governing its members.

EXCHANGE BRINGS CAPITAL.
When an investor buys stock, his act converts capital into mining, oil and industrial enterprises. His purchase is not merely a stock certificate. This investment stands for machinery and equipment, sinking of shafts, building of roads and camps, busy smelters, factories, power plants. The result of such activity is the development of natural resources, the creation of new wealth with consequent stimulation to trade and the establishment of thriving wholesale houses, retail stores, farms, prosperous workmen.

The mining industry alone has an invested capital in this province of $120,000,000, spends vast sums on fuel, equipment and provisions, pays annually in wages $30,000,000 and employs 180,000 workers. According to bulletin No. 2, issued by the Provincial Department of Mines, the gross mineral production of British Columbia during the past year created a new high record, being estimated at $70,000,000, an increase over the previous year of $1,858,393. Copper production exceeded 100,000,000 pounds a record. Structural materials output is estimated at $3,800,000, an increase of fourteen per cent as compared with 1928.

A PUBLIC INSTITUTION.
The stock exchange plays an important part in diverting the tide of capital to British Columbia enterprises. Through its members, the facts of investment opportunities in B.C. are made known to capitalists throughout the world. The stock exchange makes an investment in stock a liquid asset. Stock has a marketability impossible without an exchange.

Every stock listed on the exchange is scrutinized as to proper capitalization, reputation of the directors of the company, soundness of the enterprise. Each stock is subject to removal from the listings, should such action best serve investors.

This great public institution plays an important part in creating public confidence, in safeguarding the investor, in speeding up and improving the trading in stocks. It is an instrument controlled by the public and for the public good. It is a powerful force in increasing British Columbia's prosperity.

ONE MILL CUT FORECAST BY ANSCOMB

"To Alderman Robert Smith, our new member, I am sure we all extend very cordial greetings and hope that his public service may be pleasant to himself and of great benefit to the citizens generally.

"The policies I have in mind for the future development of the city are now well known, as despite the lack of a majority, I consider those policies were directly opposed in very vigorous fashion by aldermanic candidates who were not endorsed by the electors, so that we may well feel that the public appreciates and expects a sound, progressive programme to take care of these needs developments from time to time on a business basis. I trust that during the ensuing year these policies will take definite and actual shape.

"During the last year all branches of the city's service have received monetary consideration; when I say all branches, I mean those departments where definite and uniform wage scales are in operation. There are a few individual cases where I think recognition to betterment should be given, where not covered by flat scales and these will be placed before you to due time by the heads of the departments.

ONE MILL CUT
"Having placed all departments on reasonably generous wage scales for the time being, I consider it our paramount duty to afford the shareholders, otherwise the taxpayers, equally good consideration, and while I am not able to give you yet a complete synopsis of the city's financial position, I propose asking that you set yourselves the task of definitely fixing the tax rate at forty mills, a mill reduction as compared with last year.

"I would ask your very active co-operation to get the estimates completed and rate by-law passed not later than January 31, in order that tax notices may be in the hands of the citizens very early in the year.

"I suggest to you that we ask the Legislature to give us power in our Private Act to rescind the time-honored custom of requiring the endorsement of the whole council for expenditure of $50 and over, and that the principle be applied generally, that the head of the department, with the consent of his committee, be empowered to spend necessary money, of course within the limits of their estimates for the period, and that where possible more responsibility be placed on the heads of the various departments for the routine operation of the city's business.

STANDING COMMITTEES
"Your standing committees will be represented by the following aldermen:

"Finance—Mayor Anson, Aldermen Mara, Straith and Dewar.

"Industrial—Aldermen Straith, Woodward and Cullin.

"Friendly Help—Aldermen Adam and Woodward.

"Publicity Bureau—Mayor Anson, Aldermen Worthington, Cullin, Mara and Straith.

"Fire Wardens—Aldermen Dewar, Adam and Litchfield.

"Public Works—Aldermen Mara, Smith and Worthington.

"Sanitary Measures—Mayor Anson, Aldermen Peden, Woodward and Worthington.

"Agricultural Association—Aldermen Woodward, Litchfield and Cullin.

"Recreation—Aldermen Adam, Litchfield and Peden.

"Parks—Aldermen Worthington, Woodward and Peden.

"Court Revision, Assessment Roll—Mayor Anson, Aldermen Worthington, Peden, Smith and Cullin.

"Court Revision, Voters' List—Mayor Anson, Aldermen Mara and Dewar.

"Library Board—Aldermen Straith.

"I take this opportunity of wishing all members of the council and the city's staff every possible good wish for the ensuing year," concluded his valedictory.

SELECTION RATIFIED
Alderman James Adam, congratulated the Mayor on the completion of a successful first year as the city's chief executive. Aldermen E. S. Woodward and R. A. C. Dewar moved the adoption of the committee selections suggested by Mayor Anson in a vote where the power of appointment lay with the council.

WELCOME NEW MEMBERS.
Alderman Robert Smith and Alderman Alexander Peden were cordially received, and each returned thanks for the felicitations extended in brief remarks.

Mr. Smith said that he was a man of few words, but that he would make it his honest endeavor to co-operate in every way for the city's interest and advancement.

Mr. Peden said he considered himself as "an old alderman renewed." He had served in 1911, and felt that anyone passing through council service in that period had little to fear from the quieter and more even tenor of present times. He had spent the last six years on the school board, he recalled, and his election to the council, he had been told, was "an elevation." Whether that was so or not, he would use his best endeavors to co-operate with his colleagues to bring about harmony in the common interest of all.

On motion by Aldermen C. Litchfield and W. T. Straith, the entire council associated itself with a cordial vote of thanks to Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, and those taking part in annual community service of Sunday last, for an outstanding occasion, brilliantly carried out.

Council dinners are becoming popular, it has developed. Alderman James Adam was host last night at an informal private dinner to the Mayor and Aldermen, held at Kelway's restaurant, to mark an anniversary occasion. Alderman Adam was presented with a handsome gift of silverware by the council, to mark the event.

GOING TO WORK

The "Playboy of Broadway" no longer. Nicholas Herkimer Putnam, recent heir to $30,000,000 and called "New York's most eligible bachelor," has announced he will settle down to a business career. Here you see the twenty-one-year-old social register—one of the youngest corporation heads in the country—as he took up his duties as president of the firm bearing his name.

BEAVERBROOK BOOM IS AWAY TO POOR START

London, Jan. 7. (By Thomas T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).—It may of course be due to a mixture of professional and political jealousy, but the fact remains that outside of journals controlled by Lord Rothermere and Lord Beaverbrook, the general press in London has given little attention to the former's assertion that he has been "personally urging Lord Beaverbrook to come to the front in political life," and that it would be a wonderful transformation in Great Britain if by any turn of the wheel of fortune Lord Beaverbrook should enter within the next year or two Number 10 Downing Street as its master.

Lord Rothermere's utterance was made at a dinner of his editorial chiefs which was also attended by Lord Beaverbrook.

NOT IN THE COMMONS
Commenting on the situation, The Morning Post refers to Lord Rothermere's "verbal offensiveness" and while admitting Lord Beaverbrook has some needed qualities of leadership, states it can not forget he is under some special disqualifications. To begin with, the paper says, he is a peer and would therefore have to leave his management of the House of Commons to another. Secondly, he is a great newspaper magnate, which means the very source of his strength is his weakness.

The Yorkshire Post, one of the best Conservative journals in the country, while admitting the anxiety with which the Conservatives are afflicted, refuses to believe the remedy lies in the dictatorship of the press with Lord Beaverbrook at Downing Street and Lord Rothermere pulling the strings in the background.

POSTMEN HELD CHRISTMAS TREE

Special Function Greatly Enjoyed By Members of Postal Staff; 200 Attend

With a diversified programme including games, singing, dancing and general merry-making, members of the postal staff played a variety of entertainment for their children and friends at the annual Christmas tree held by the staff in Asquith Hall, Saturday evening. Approximately 200 attendees enjoyed the different features of the programme.

Proceeding under the children played games with great enthusiasm. Community singing was followed by an informal programme given by Mrs. Payne, Miss C. Lewis, Mr. Farmer, Mr. Burke, "Yorkie" and Mr. Harter.

At 8:15 o'clock, Santa Claus made his appearance and distributed gifts of the tree. He met with a rousing reception and delighted the children with his antics.

An interesting guessing competition, in which competitors were required to estimate how many lights were on the Christmas tree in front of Spencer's store during the festive season, was followed by a drawing for prizes.

The committee wishes to thank Hawkins & Hayward for the use of the lights for the Christmas tree, also

Fight With Tuberculosis Must Begin With the Children

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

Precisely all authorities on the control of tuberculosis are agreed that any significant campaign against the disease must begin among the youngest in the population rather than by attempting merely to cure the advanced cases in adults.

Dr. Horton Casparis, in emphasizing this point, has outlined the technique followed in the clinic for children in the Vanderbilt University School of Medicine in Nashville. The first step obviously is to find the disease in its early stage of infection in the child and then to do everything possible to prevent the development of the active disease.

The tuberculin test is used to establish the presence of the disease. This test involves merely the injection of a very small amount of the tuberculin solution under the skin. If the test is positive further studies are made, the history of the child taken, its lungs examined by listening and by percussion or thumping, and then X-ray pictures are taken.

If a child is found to have suspicious signs of tuberculosis it is given the maximum of health care. Its tonsils are removed when there is indication for their removal. Infected and decaying teeth are taken care of. The diet is watched and the nutrition improved as much as possible. Other children in the family are also to find out if there are other members with tuberculosis.

In a discussion of Dr. Casparis's paper the health officer of one of our largest American cities pointed out that the time has passed for health drives on various diseases and particularly on tuberculosis, the disease that is always with us. Health drives stir up temporary activity and are almost invariably followed by a relapse of interest. The fight against tuberculosis must be continuous and certainly the mapping out of a ten-year programme embracing all of the methods of study described by Dr. Casparis would not be too much.

The Woman's Day

By ALLENE SUMNER

to keep your figure—supposing, of course, that you want to keep it?

Dancers and dieters are seldom the same person, according to Leo Reisman, who conducts the orchestra at the Casino in New York, where the smart people are dancing these days.

"If a doctor told you to walk ten miles a day to keep down your flesh, you wouldn't obey his instructions," he said. "But you can dance ten miles in an evening—and many young couples do—and consider that you are having entertainment, and exercise as well."

One evening, not entirely engrossed by his score, it occurred to Reisman to wonder just how much mileage the average couple got out of themselves in an evening of dancing, so he introduced a couple to take the dancing test.

They put speedometers on their feet, and at the end of the evening it was found that in the hours from 8 to midnight they had covered just a fraction over ten miles.

WHY THEY'RE SLIM

That explained why most of the dancers, young or old, were slim and shapely and light on their feet. For he had long noticed that it was not only the debutantes who danced there night after night, but women of fifty, and sometimes more, looking as young as their own daughters, who stepped to his music.

The craze for dancing will have to go out, he says, before the more ample type of figure returns to any degree of favor, because so long as we spend our evenings dancing, we are almost bound to be slim and flapper-figured.

In the days when the more ample woman reigned, with her full, voluminous clothes as well as her full hips, she did not dance as she does to-day. Dance was slow and languorous with rest periods between dances and people "sat out" dances occasionally.

To-day dancing is swift, and it takes muscular strength, and poise. Girls dance in the afternoon, dance at tea, dance through their dinners in the evening, and dance after the theatre—sometimes until dawn.

HE MAY WED

Wedding bells will ring soon for Plutarco Elias Calles, former president of Mexico, according to reports in Mexico City—and this picture shows Calles with the girl who, it is said, will be his bride. She is Senorita Leonor Llorente, and this is the only picture ever taken of the couple, who are at a sports festival in the Mexican capital. Calles is a widower.

Three special concerts at the Empress Hotel this season January 23, March 23, April 17.

WAITING FOR WEDDING BELLS

Some time in March wedding bells will ring for another of the famous Costello sisters. This time it will be the lovely Helene who will go to the altar. Her husband will be Lovel Sherman, moving picture actor. Helene's sister, Dolores, is the wife of John Barrymore.

GET CHILD'S VIEWPOINT TO BETTER UNDERSTAND HIS MANAGEMENT

Many mothers do the right thing intuitively. They understand children and are sympathetic with their viewpoints. It always elates them to discover that their methods are smiled upon by psychologists, who, after all, working with real children and not just concocting theories in their heads. These two letters pleased me a lot, just as the articles they mentioned pleased the mothers who had taught this idea in them coincided with their experiences.

Mrs. L. B. G. read the article on toys and was reminded of some of her early experiences. She says, "I had a method which solved some problems for me and thought it might be equally helpful to other mothers."

"I converted a shallow closet into a 'toy shop' by having shelves built into it. The closet of course had a door. The supply of toys was kept in it in orderly manner and the children kept out only a few toys at a time to play with. When I observed that they were tiring of a toy they were asked to put it in the shop. We made a trip there and selected another toy to take the place of the one of which they had tired."

Before Christmas we made up a box of toys for children less well supplied. They were encouraged to give not just discarded toys but those which represented some sacrifice to part with. I look back on those days as the happiest of my life. My children are now all grown and I have a few months old grandchild."

YOUR CHILDREN

If he never seems to think up anything original to do, and just tramps around after the others, dig when they dig, march when they march, and sit on the step when they sit, don't think he's a dolt and an imbecile.

If he shows any sign of playing by himself aside from pulling a toy around, or pushing himself along in his kiddy car, he's unusual, for three-year-olds as a rule have very little initiative. When I say three-year-olds I mean it literally, for after their third birthday, they are in their fourth year.

After their third birthday, it is amazing how quickly they learn. They have acquired a good bit of general knowledge about this big world in their three short years, but now they are going to learn about the greatest thing of all. Themselves!

It is just about this time that they discover that they can act and think quite independently of other people. They no longer have to copy and do the things that other people do.

In this orgy of discovery—a sort of stepping over the sill into the magic land of wonders, so to speak—they do some terribly funny things.

One of their first experiments is to be something or someone else. Then their little games of pretend begin.

"Look, Mom, I'm a rooster," says Dickie as he struts around and pretends to crow.

Up until then, unless, as I say, he is unusual, very likely he was contented to watch the box of the barnyard and his comical pantomimes. But now Dickie goes further. He experiments.

He becomes the boss of the barnyard himself. I've seen a child play at being a rooster or an animal for half an hour as sincerely and unconsciously as if such things as little boys called Dickie didn't exist at all. He is quite as likely to throw his small personality into inanimate objects, too. He'll be a chair, or a pencil or a house quite as easily as a dog or rabbit or a rooster. It's quite common to be a train, an automobile or an aeroplane.

HE'LL BE SOMEBODY ELSE

But this isn't all. He loves to pretend that he is somebody else. He'll be his father and read a newspaper, or his mother and order the groceries on the telephone. He'll put on his mother's hat and get her purse and "go shopping."

When he's acting a part, his imagination will run away with him. He's very likely to tell us some astounding thing that he did when we know very well that he didn't at all.

Between his third and fourth birthday he will play many parts and pretend many things. We mustn't punish him for fibbing and we mustn't laugh at him—not unless he is a jolly little chap who enjoys a joke on himself.

Nicky Arnstein Secretly Weds Wealthy Woman

New York, Jan. 7.—The Daily News in a copyrighted article yesterday said it has learned of the secret marriage of Jules W. Arnold (Mickey Arnstein) and Mrs. Isabelle McCullough of Chicago. The marriage took place at Quebec October 18.

Arnstein and his bride, who is said to be the former wife of Charles McCullough, wealthy Chicago man, are residing in the ultra-fashionable Sutton Place section here. Mrs. Arnstein and her former husband were divorced in Reno, according to The News.

The present Mrs. Arnstein is reported to have been beneficiary of half her late father's estate of $5,000,000, the other half having been distributed among charities. Arnstein is said to have met Mrs. McCullough while at a garden party in honor of his former wife, Fanny Brice, in 1927. He and Miss Brice have since been divorced.

In 1924 Arnstein was sent to the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth for two years after conviction of conspiracy in connection with a $5,000,000 Wall Street bond theft.

That good old-fashioned flavor

NO DOUBT about it—old-time cooking was delicious. But it may have been our youthful appetites, rather than the quality of the food itself, that gave it that super-flavor we all remember. The good cooks of those days never had a chance to buy such groceries as modern housewives use.

The coffee on your breakfast-table—one of the half-dozen best-known brands advertised to-day—has a flavor that you could find only at a few famous restaurants, forty years ago. The cakes that mother used to make would have been even lighter, fluffier, if she had had modern flour and shortening to work with.

Every day the advertising columns tell you where to buy and how to use cooking materials that are better-tasting, purer, more conveniently put up than ever before in history.

All through your housekeeping the same rule holds good. There are better things nowadays to eat, to wear, to use. Read the advertisements and know what they are. Then ask for them by name.

Make it a habit; reading the advertisements pays YOU.

When a Child is FEVERISH,

CROSS, UPSET

Colic, gas, sour belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, in babies and children, generally show food is souring in the little digestive tract. When these symptoms appear, give Baby a teaspoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Add it to the first bottle of food in the morning. Older children should be given a tablespoonful in a glass of water. This will comfort the child—make his stomach and bowels easy. In five minutes he is comfortable, happy. It will sweep the bowels free of all sour, indigestible food. It opens the bowels in constipation, cures children's ailments. Children take it readily because it is palatable, pleasant-tasting. It has many uses for mother and child. Write for the interesting book, "Useful Information." Address: The Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co., Windsor, Ont. It will be sent FREE.

Portland Runs String of Consecutive Victories Up To Five

THE SPORTS MIRROR

HATS OFF to the Victoria "rep" rugby team and the men who put them in condition to hand Varsity that 12-3 defeat on Saturday. They say history repeats itself. Well it was back in distant history that the capital city won a McKechnie Cup rugby game. But this year they look as if they have a fair chance of going further than taking a gold game. From their showing against the students, they should be able to put up a battle that ought to leave Vancouver stunned in their next game in the Terminal City.

As a rule, the "rep" team line that gets all the glory when a team wins. But this time the spectators certainly agreed to hand it to the forwards. Not that the backfield didn't put up a sterling brand of rugby, but they didn't get the breaks to show their ability as well as the hard working forwards did. When it came to stopping the elusive V.B.C. backs, the locals were right where they should have been.

Whatever the game revealed, it certainly brought forward one of the most remarkable men in sport in the person of Dick Nixon, Varsity forward. When the mud and blood of battle had been washed away, Dick came forward with the astounding statement that his team was beaten by a better aggregation.

Of course, there were several Victorians who thought the same, but for a rival player to come out with it, there is something so unusual about it that it ought to be syndicated.

Taking things all round, like a soccer ball, Victoria got an even break on the scoring end of the game.

To some, it looked as if Bobby Tye got across at the corner at the end of the first half. He certainly seemed to be all wrapped up in the game when they looked for the ball after the other bodies had been packed off him. However, the referee, unable to see for the number of players around him, did not count the attempt and Bob was the last one to challenge his decision.

To offset this, Victoria was given a pass in the second half when Godfrey Wenman touched the ball down after Campbell Forbes had kicked it over. To some, not the same ones who noticed Tye's play, it appeared that Godfrey had touched the ball down before Wenman reached it.

But what's the rest of the game among friends—the locals have won.

Then somebody asks about the dramatic, attractive, and colorful corner of the Royal Athletic Grounds has for the ball. If we remember correctly, there have been more tries scored in that corner both by the Canadian and English codes, than there have been in any two other parts of the field.

Rugby enthusiasts of the city, as well as the players and members of the union, certainly appreciated the interest shown by the Hon. J. H. Macdonald, Minister of the Interior, in the game. Despite the cold weather and drizzling rain, the union's guests of honor showed no hesitation in coming out to the game and congratulating the players.

Suzanne Lenglen, former great tennis player, amateur and professional in turn, has taken a job as a demonstrator and sales woman in a Parisian sport clothes establishment. The idea is that Miss Lenglen, playing no more professional tennis, may be able to ask for reinstatement as an amateur.

This may go in France, but it hardly likely that the rest of the sport world will agree to regard Suzanne as an amateur again, much as that sport would like to see her in action against the world's champion, Helen Wills.

Miss Lenglen left the amateur ranks purely to make money. Under the direction of Pyle, the professional promoter, she toured the world playing professional matches and giving professional exhibitions in many countries. She is said to have made a fortune as a professional.

The line between amateurism and professionalism in all branches of sport is rather a delicate one. But not in the case of any amateur who comes out and competes openly for money. We figure that as an open professional Miss Lenglen is entitled to fully as much respect as she commanded as an amateur. The only professional not entitled to respect is the under-cover gent who gets the money secretly and as a "simon pure."

Victorio Campolo and Primo Carnera might be matched to fight for the heavy-heavyweight title. They are the two biggest super-heavyweights in the world, and if they would draw money at the gate who would?

FIELD'S SHOWS MIXING SPIRIT TO DEFEAT ROS.

Welterweight Champ Willing to Trade Punches and Wins By Decisive Margin

French-Algerian Fighter Staggers Champ in Third; Both Seek Knockout

Philadelphia, Jan. 7.—Jackie Fields, world's welterweight champion, scored an impressive victory over Alf Ros, French-Algerian, in a slashing ten-round bout featuring the card at the Arena last night. The title was not at stake. Fields scaled 147½ and Ros 132½.

The fight was fast and furious from the opening bell, with both boys always willing to mix it and try for a knockout. Fields seemed to have little regard for Ros's reputation as a hard puncher. Fields was ready to trade punches at every stage of the battle.

The champion came out confidently in the first and shot a left and right to the face and body. Jackie took a hard right to the head and then drove Ros against the ropes with a shower of blows.

Both landed effective punches in the second, Fields stinging Ros with right uppercuts to the jaw half a dozen times and the Algerian retaliating with solid smashes to the head and body.

A long right to the jaw in the third felled the champion, who then stepped in close and whaled away at the body. He was warned for hitting low and also for hitting on the back.

FIELDS BRINGS BLOOD
Ros chased the champion back with a flood of rights and lefts in the fourth. Fields got in close and rifled half a dozen uppercuts to the Algerian's face that brought a rush of blood. Fields stayed in close and punished Ros with short jolts. Ros went over a hard right at the bell.

Ros ran into a jarring right hook to the jaw in the fifth and countered with a heavy right as they clinched. Between clinches in this round the champion danced about and landed with both hands to the face. Fields met a barrage of rights and lefts when the sixth opened, one of which sent him back on his heels, and in a short session of infighting Ros got in three hard wallops to the head. A pair of left hooks caught the champion on the jaw, but he shook them off and laced his opponent with short hooks and uppercuts.

ROS WOBBLY
Fields, after taking a few solid punches in the seventh, went to work like a champion and hammered Ros all over the ring. He inflicted a lot of punishment and Ros was wobbly at the bell.

The champion couldn't locate Ros's jaw in the eighth and centred his attack on the body, whaling away with both hands. Fields tried hard for a knockout in the ninth, but none of his punches slowed up the rugged Algerian.

Ros came out with both hands going in the tenth, and they traded punches in the centre of the ring. Fields landed often and his punches carried more sting. Both were swinging for a knockout at the bell.

Brennan scored the only goal of the close-checking contest late in the first period. Superior experience of the British Columbian gave them the decision in the territorial play, but lacked the finish to beat the visitors' stalwart defence trio.

Which One Leads Turf Winners In U.S. Last Season

New York, Jan. 7.—With a trio of two-year-olds showing the way, Chic, an imported son of Spearmint-Lady Hamburg, topped the money-winning sires of the American turf during 1929, when his get won $254,683.

The bulk of Chic's winnings was contributed by three juveniles, Harry Payne Whitney's champion, Which One, being the chief contributor.

Which One, winner of the rich Belmont Futurity, won $129,455, while Dustmail was responsible for $28,830 and Goose Egg, $12,925. Distraction, a four-year-old, was the only elder son of Chic to add to the winnings of the champion sire.

Ranking second was Light Brigade, also an imported sire. His sons and daughters won $236,220, with the great three-year-old filly, Rose of Sharon, responsible for the major portion.

Thanks to Clyde Van Den, Ken-tucky Derby winner, and Bateau, a flashy four-year-old filly, Man o' War, ranked third with winnings of $213,220.

New York, Jan. 7.—Under a hustling ride, George Collins's filly, Justina, beat out the favorite, the Three D's stable's That's It, in the fourth and feature race at New Orleans yesterday. Vancouver, Jan. 7.—The proposed bout between Jimmy McLarnin and Sammy Mandell, scheduled for Chicago early in February, was declared off yesterday by "Pop" Foster, McLarnin's manager.

POSITION OF SERVER SHOULD BE DEFINED

By JACK PURCELL
Canadian Badminton Singles Champion

Official badminton rules, strange to say, do not set out where the partner of the server or striker must stand in a game of doubles or mixed doubles, while the bird is being served. As the rules stand today, in doubles a person who is not serving or receiving the bird may take up any position on the court, he is in the same half court as his partner, his own half court, ahead of the front service line.

A great many players have written me on this point and have, I think, brought up a matter which should be dealt with by the executive of the Canadian association. Our rules define the position of the server and state where the other two players of the foursome may stand during the service.

In the back-and-forth combination it is often noticed that the partner of the server stands right up under the net, well ahead of the front service line, and while her position may cramp her own effectiveness, it is very disconcerting to the one receiving to have his opponent in this position. The rules committee of the executive should decide whether or not a player has the right to take up this position and formulate a rule which would end the discussion that is constantly arising on this point.

I understand the west is predicting a great season for Noel Radford, who last year made it so interesting in the British Columbia singles events for the veterans, Underhill and Muir, and who partnered with Muir to win the Dominion doubles title. Radford appears to have everything and will doubtless be one of the western representatives at the Canadian championships in Ottawa.

Battle Enlivens Game As Buckaroos Outplay Vancouver

Frank Jerwa, Gordon Teel, Doug. Brennan and Burke All Plastered With $10 Fines and Major Penalties; Score Is 2-1; Trouble All Starts in Opening Period; Portland Now in Undisputed Possession of Second Place.

Vancouver, Jan. 7.—Portland Buckaroos ran their string of consecutive victories up to five last night at the Arena when they outplayed the Vancouver Lions from beginning to end to win by a count of 2-1. Portland uncorked a fine sample of combination play in the first two periods to take a lead of two goals while the home team was peppering Aitkenhead without success. In the final period Portland played a four-man defence while the Lions put four and five men on attack and kept play almost continuously in the Portland half of the rink. During the last ten minutes the Lions rammed home one goal, all of the home team except Jackson playing on the attack.

The victory gave the Portland team an advantage of two points in second place over Seattle and within four points of the league-leading Lions.

Judging by the manner in which the players went after one another in the opening twenty minutes, there was a considerable hangover from the tilt in Portland last Thursday night. Clubs were swung freely and quite a lot of tripping got by until in the last couple of minutes open warfare broke loose when Frank Jerwa and Gordon Teel engaged in a brick fight. Mickey tried them apart and plastered a ten-spot on each with a ten-minute rest. A fraction before the whistle Pratt chopped Joe Jerwa across the calves and when Joe appealed to Jon, Pratt was chased.

SOCCEER TEAMS WILL RESUME THEIR GAMES
Four Wednesday League
Elevens Will Be Seen in Action To-morrow

After a two-weeks' lay-off owing to the holidays, Wednesday League football teams will resume their schedule to-morrow afternoon with two league matches. At the Royal Athletic Park Bachelors and the Hudson's Bay will meet with Hexicon as the referee, while at Beacon Hill Saanich United and the Navy will be opponents with McKay as referee. Four of the teams in the First Division will be engaged in the opening round of the Combination Cup series on Saturday, while the other two will meet in a replay of their first round Province Cup match.

In the Combination Cup matches the Saanich Thistles have been drawn against the Jokers at Beacon Hill, while the Victoria West and Five Cs will battle at the Victoria West Park. In the Province Cup game Victoria City and Esquimalt will play at the Royal Athletic Park, commencing at 2:15 o'clock with McMillan as referee. In their first match the teams played to a 1-1 tie after overtime.

Shires Skips Meeting of Athletic Commission

Shy One Decides Not to Disappoint His Fight Public

Although Ordered to Appear Before Illinois State Athletic Commission To-day "The Great One" Will Fight To-night in St. Paul; Is Violating Order of National Boxing Association Which Suspended Him in Thirty-two States; Shires May Get Into More Trouble With Chicago White Sox.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Charles Arthur (The Great) Shires does not propose to permit meetings of state athletic commissions to cause him to disappoint his public.

While he is more or less soured on the boxing business, the Great One still is a fighter, and decided not to attend the meeting of the Illinois State Athletic Commission this afternoon so that he might go through with a bout at St. Paul to-night.

"Shy Arthur" said he could not attend the meeting which was arranged for him to explain some things about his meeting with "Mysterious Dangerous Dan Daly of Cleveland," and still have time to fulfill his engagement in St. Paul with Tony Fath, a baseball pitcher. Rather than disappoint the fans, he decided to pass up the meeting. And, too, he still is considerably short of the $250,000 he hopes to get out of boxing.

Kessie Blumenthal, the shy one's manager, said Mrs. Blumenthal to-day would notify the commission that neither fighter nor manager could attend the meeting. Blumenthal also outlined Shires' itinerary for the next few days. The "great man" will return to Chicago after the St. Paul fight, but will pause as long as it takes to catch a train for Lansing, Mich., where the Michigan Boxing Commission plans to delve into the circumstances surrounding Shires' proposed bout with Battling Cris of Rockwood, Mich.

ARTHUR MUST EXPLAIN

Cris' manager has charged that a Shires' representative requested the fighter to fold up in the fight, and C. Arthur has been invited to explain.

If the Michigan commission is convinced nothing is amiss, Shires will fulfill the date with Cris. He then plans to return to Chicago, where he hopes to talk baseball with the White Sox management. Shires may encounter difficulty when he seeks an audience with the Sox management, for Secretary Harry Grabiner has said the first baseman must clear himself of all charges before the club will be ready to consider offering him a contract.

Promoter Jim Mulvaney, who staged the Shires-Daly and Shires-Traction bouts, also was summoned to attend the meeting to-day, as were Daly and Eddie Mead, who handled the Cleveland fighter in Chicago. None of the three had indicated whether he would attend.

Shires will appear in St. Paul in spite of the National Boxing Association, which has ordered him barred in thirty-two states.

ment, of course, forces the body a bit ahead. But speaking generally the kind of forward shift of the weight which is desired is not of the forced variety. The swing round to the left foot should be easy and natural, the result of relaxed hitting. When watching an expert, one receives the impression that hitting a golf ball is about the simplest thing in the world. It appears so because the motion of the swing, when it is expertly done, flows easily from one position to the other. The whole appears perfectly natural, almost nonchalant.

HITTING THE BALL THE IMPORTANT THING

It is sometimes a bad thing for the beginner to think too much about what happens after he hits the ball, or of what appearance he presents at the finish of his stroke. What should concern him most is hitting the ball. He should think of finishing with his weight on his left foot mainly in terms of what he must do to cause that result to follow naturally. His cue, of course, is complete relaxation.

Whatever may be the reason this seems a difficult thing for the average player to accomplish. I suppose his chief trouble is his uncertainty in himself—his fear of letting go. The most common fault is a sudden bracing of the left leg which throws all of the weight of the body upon the right foot at such a position that it can only hinder the speed of the stroke.

I like always to watch Cyril Tooley drive. His long lashing stroke is apt to be a bit too loose, but never is there

Huat Is Badly Beaten In First Bout As Bantam

New York, Jan. 7.—Archie Bell, veteran Brooklyn bantamweight, easily outpointed Eugene Huat of France, in a ten-round bout at the St. Nicholas Arena last night. Huat, making his bantamweight debut after a successful career as a flyweight, was outboxed all the way. Vidal Gregorio, Spanish bantamweight, stopped Sammy Tisch of New York, in the third round of their ten-round encounter.

Layton Receives First Defeat In Defence of Title

New York, Jan. 7.—Johnny Layton, of St. Louis, received his first setback in the defence of his national three-cushion billiard title last night, when he was defeated by Angie Kleckhefer, the Chicago southpaw, 59 to 38 in fifty innings. The defeat was Layton's first in four games. While the victory, Kleckhefer's second in three starts, left the eight times former champion definitely in the race for titular honors.

Meanwell Improves Zone Defence

MEANWELL DEFENSE—GOING ON FIRST MAN THROUGH IN ZONE—ONE FORWARD JOINS IN ZONE DEFENSE.

By SOL MEITZGER

Dr. Walter E. Meanwell, one of the greatest basketball coaches in America, is always springing something new. "Zone" is a house for basketball men and his teams show it. Last year his defence was well nigh perfect in Conference play and helped his Wisconsin team tie for the Conference title.

It is not quite the same as the standard defence in the Conference. His men break into a two-line defence when the opponent gets the ball, guards to the rear. They play a zone defence. But when the opposition shows its hand by its first advance, when the opponents, for example, rush the No. 1 man down first, the forward feeling him lets him go by. But watch Meanwell's other forward. He breaks back to become the pivot or centre man of the three zone basket defence.

That leaves Meanwell's centre and one forward in the first line to break for the basket when the ball switches hands. To-morrow—another combination defence used by California at Los Angeles.

WILLOWS AND BAPTISTS IN DECISIVE WIN

Defeat J.B.A.A. and Fairfield Badminton Clubs By One-sided Scores

Baptists Retain Leadership of League; Willows Show Great Strength

Emmanuel Baptist badminton players hung up another victory last night, sending the J.B.A.A. down to a 13-3 defeat, while at the same time Willows were at home to the Fairfield club, which only annexed one match out of the scheduled sixteen. The churchmen are still out in front with only one loss, while their closest rivals, North Saanich, have played one game less but have won all their fixtures but one.

Willows showed plenty of strength in decisively defeating the Fairfield club, which has stayed close to the leaders all season. Last night's defeat will throw them down two points, while two of the other clubs will have a chance to catch them in third place this week when the scheduled matches will have been concluded. Willows have turned in some notable victories this year in the third division, but have slipped in some of the lesser matches.

Willows victories for the most part were quite easily won, but they encountered stiff opposition. McQuaid and Simpson lost a close match to Gordon and Denniston, who rallied after losing the middle set at 18-16. Joan List and Gordon Webb turned in a nice victory in the mixed doubles when they won from Mrs. White and Fish in three sets at 9-15, 18-17 and 8-15.

The only feature of the J.B.A.A.-Emmanuel Baptist match was the winning of two victories in the men's doubles by Arthur Poyntz and Lionel Huxtable. They defeated the strong team of Blake and Erickson 17-14 in the best match of the evening. Huxtable came in for his third win of the match when, paired with Mrs. Poyntz, they defeated Mr. and Mrs. Erickson 17-14.

The scores, with the J.B.A.A. players first mentioned, follow:

Fear of Really Hitting Ball Trouble With Most Golfers—Hold, Firm Stroke Best

Several of our more eminent golfing authorities have been writing much lately on the importance of letting the weight of the body come through on to the left foot as the ball is dispatched on its way. Certainly there can be no better advice given, for if this is done it is certain evidence that every ounce of power has been directed in the proper direction. It is a sure sign that there has been complete relaxation with no stiffening muscles to oppose the force of the blow.

I should like here to make a distinction between allowing the weight to go forward and forcing the body in that direction. I believe, with Abe Mitchell, that the proper way to start the club downward is by a sort of slump of the left side. This move-

About the Fighter Who Dared Fitz to Stand Him on His Head—and What Happened

Bob Fitzsimmons was the hero of a double feat I witnessed in Tattersall's arena in Chicago, back in 1909. He not only scored the quickest knockout I've ever seen, but he landed his opponent just exactly as he said he would.

Ruby Bob was fighting Jim Thorne in Tattersall's. It was his first contest after Jeffries stopped him at Coney Island. Thorne, a good English middleweight, perhaps thought the beating by Jeff had Fitz all washed up; that he'd take him very easily.

He answered the first bell by rushing out and roughing Fitz viciously. This made Bob mad. In a clinch, he threatened to stand Thorne on his head if he didn't fight like a man.

"You big freaky," said Thorne, with a curse, "I'd like to see you stand me on my head."

"Ere goes, then, mind yourself!" was Bob's retort.

With that, he feinted Thorne a few times, tied him in a knot, then shifted on him.

That always was a dazzling thing, the Fitzsimmons shift. And never did I see it work better than against Thorne.

Thorne stood in the centre of the ring, trying to figure out what was going to happen next. Fitz hooked his right for the jaw, missed purposely, whipped his right back as though he would slip over a back hand blow to the chin. Thorne threw up his hands to block this. And like a flash, Fitz shifted and shot in a left uppercut.

It was practically the same shift that Fitz used to wrest the title from Corbett at Carson City, Nev. Only this time the jaw instead of the solar-plexus. The punch lifted Thorne clear off his feet and hurled him backward. He landed on his shoulders and the back of his head. His feet touched the floor behind him, and his body formed an inverted "V," like a bridge.

The referee counted him out while he was still senseless and in that grotesque position.

The fight was over within two minutes of the time it started. Fitzsimmons made good his threat in half a minute.

Another fight with a weird ending—and one also involving an Australian fighter—was that between Barn Fitzpatrick, the Australian Comet, and Mike Cleary of New York. Fitzpatrick was a terrific hitter of the Terry McGovern type, usually scoring early knockouts.

Mike Cleary was the same sort of a bristling battler—"club fighters," they call them now. The wise bettors figured that it was a question of who landed first, and thus win the fight.

In the second round they were tearing away, and simultaneously each swung with all his might. Simultaneously each took one on the chin. Together they went to the canvas!

And they remained dead to the world, while they were counted out—together!

TRUSTEES TELL SCHOOL NEEDS

Saanich School Board Opens Campaign For Building Proposals

The Saanich School Board last night at Keating school explained to a small audience the reasons why new school buildings are required by Saanich. The terms of the two money by-laws, to raise $120,000, were reviewed, and the trustees united in appealing for support of the measures at the polls on January 18.

Trustee Frank V. Hobbs, presided, and told of the policies of the sitting board. He expressed pleasure with the success which had followed employment of a municipal inspector of schools, both efficiency and economy having been advanced.

Trustee J. L. Brooks recalled that he had been a member of the School Board when Keating, Tillicum and other schools were built, and remarked upon the increase in work which had devolved upon the trustees with the passing years. Mr. Brooks pointed out that the need of a high school had been created by the influx of students from Saanich. He had demurred against erection of a high school before the secession issue was decided.

ROYAL OAK NORTHWARD
Explaining the decision of the board to create a new small high school to serve the rural northern ward, Mr. Brooks said the people were entitled to consideration, and such a school would serve all Saanich north of Royal Oak. Three rooms would impart high school courses and one room would probably be devoted for some years to teaching grade eight pupils.

While $30,000 had been provided for a site near Keating, no location had yet been chosen. Trustee Brooks complimented his fellow members on the board on their hard labor and interest. He was not anxious to be re-elected, and while he had been persuaded to stand, would retire in favor of any other candidate from northern Saanich.

Chairman Hobbs stated that copies of a circular letter, explanatory of the two by-laws, were being distributed to all pupils at Saanich schools, this course saving substantial postal charges.

SYSTEM WORKS WELL

Trustee W. P. June reviewed the conditions which had led to operation by Saanich of its own high school in temporary quarters at Tolmie School. Impossibility of passing a building by-law last summer, when secession was a live issue, was recalled. The speaker giving a review of the arrangement now in effect, which was working satisfactorily, with a minimum transportation required. This had compared advantageously with earlier plans for a high school at Royal Oak, which would have compelled all students to travel to school, paying fares which would aggregate great sums during a year. The possibility of saving parents this expense had been a vital factor in the board's decision to build a small high school at Keating to serve rural families.

The proposed Keating school would provide academic and commercial courses, similar to those offered by Tolmie High School. Mr. June was confident that the annual expense to Saanich of the new high school system would be less than the amount now paid or cheaper than the amount now paid to Victoria. Saanich had paid $30,000 to Victoria in 1928-29 for high school services, and Mr. June remarked that this was equivalent to a tax levy of five mills annually.

He gave a brief resume of election plans he had presented in 1928, showing that nearly all betterments they advocated were now in effect. If he were a candidate for re-election he would stand on his record. Chairman Hobbs warmly praised the services given Saanich by Mr. June.

"JUNIOR HIGH" COMING

Trustee W. Tomes likened modern education to giving small children expensive toys, destined to be broken. He remarked upon the folly of teaching children subjects for which they are not suited. He saw prospect of eventual establishment in Saanich of junior high schools, where children will be sorted into the types of classes to which they are best suited. That probable policy of coming years was a basic consideration which had influenced the School Board in devising the new building proposals. Trustee Tomes pointed out, "Don't look at this scheme from the point of dollars and cents, look at it from the viewpoint of the best interests of your boys and girls," he urged in conclusion.

The meeting was marked by lack of questions and the applause accorded all the speakers.

When closing the meeting the chairman declared he had worked for eight years as a school trustee, his objective having been attainment of the present satisfactory situation in school affairs.

ROUTINE AGENDA BEFORE COUNCIL AT FIRST RALLY

Timber Agreement With Fair-service & Gierin Varied By City

Extension of Fire Limits and Abolition of Auto Camps Urged

On the recommendation of F. M. Preston, city water commissioner, the City Council last night voted to vary the terms of its agreement with the Fair-service & Gierin Timber Company, to permit of pole logging on the Goldstream watershed by means of horses. Other changes in the agreement affecting rewording of existing clauses without changing their effect, were also ratified, at the suggestion of H. S. Pringle, city solicitor. The Council considered a routine agenda of business at a one-hour meeting.

On behalf of the City members in the Provincial Legislature, Reginald Hayward, M.L.A., extended the compliments of the season to the City, and offered the services of Victoria members for any business the City might wish to lay before the Provincial House. The offer may be accepted, as the City intends putting forward a private bill with minor legislative changes to be sought on various municipal matters.

NO RADIO VIEWS
The Council voted to stand aloof from criticism of the Air Radio Commission's report on the nationalization of broadcasting, placed before it by La Presse, of Montreal. The communication classed the project of a Government-owned radio chain as undesirable. It was not city business to take a stand on the issue, decided the Council, filing the report.

Tag days sought by the Protestant Orphan's Home and the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, were referred to the finance committee with power to act. All similar applications will go direct to the same committee, it was decided.

W. T. McGibbon, a ratepayer, wrote to the council suggesting the removal of the local broadcast transmitter to a point six to eight miles outside the city. Reception would be improved thereby, he stated. The council referred the matter to the finance committee for investigation.

WANT ZONING SECRETARY
The Zoning Board of Appeal asked for a permanent secretary, and funds to carry on the necessary expenditures of the board. The point was referred to Mayor Anscomb for settlement.

Market receipts for the year were reported as $8,951, compared to $8,751 for 1929.

Mrs. F. E. Purdy and nineteen others petitioned the council to do something about an unsightly condition said to exist at the northwest corner of Erie and St. Lawrence Streets. The works committee was instructed to investigate the cause of the complaint.

The council ratified the increase to $50 of the funds advanced by the City for indigent burials, formerly placed at $20.

WOULD EXTEND LIMITS
Three recommendations and a report were made by Building Inspector James Barf, who recommended the extension of No. 1 and No. 2 fire limits, to take account of growing developments, the abolition of auto camps within the city, and an increase in building permit and plumbing inspection fees, to bring them into line with other services rendered in these departments.

All three points were referred to committees for report.

Mr. Barf reported on the billboard situation in the City, stating eighty locations in residential and business areas, comprising some 300 billboards, had been reported to him. The report was received for consideration.

In extension of fire limits the building inspector proposed the extension of No. 1 limits to the east side of Quadra Street; and of No. 2 limits over a wide area in the neighborhood of Pandora Avenue, Johnson Street, Yates Street, View Street, Port Street, Meares Street, to a point 100 feet east of Cook Street; and also along Belleville, Government and Superior Streets in the Parliament Square area. The recommendation was referred to the fire wardens.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 8, 1930

Astrologers read this as rather an unfortunate day in planetary direction, a time to follow beaten paths avoiding all risks. It is likely to be an unfortunate day for those who seek employment of any sort. The stars are supposed to encourage avoidance of an exacting attitude on the part of superiors in business organizations. He who hopes for advance in salary or promotion of any sort should delay any attempt to obtain advancement. Persons who have reached exalted places in business or politics may to-day experience difficulties that belong to those in

NEW SCHEME OF
B.C. CANNERIES

Interests to Be Protected By Body Under New Restrictive
Regulations

Vancouver, Jan. 7.—Fishermen and packers have agreed to support Hon. S. L. Howe's proposals for restriction of B.C. cannery licenses and the amount of gear from which these plants may receive fish on the understanding that a joint committee of the packers and the other canneries will be formed to look after the interests of the canners.

This accord was reached late last night following the earlier joint conference between fishermen and packers and Mr. Howe, at which the fishermen announced they could not support a policy of new cannery licenses for the next five years.

The agreement which has been reached is expected to be ratified at a meeting of the B.C. Fishermen's Protective Association January 18, when the representatives of the fishermen will be appointed.

The meeting of the B.C. Fishermen's Protective Association will be held at the Hotel Vancouver, at 8 p.m.

At the conference yesterday the Committee of Fisheries outlined the proposals he expected to bring before the Legislature at its forthcoming session.

The policy meant in effect the restriction of the next five years of licenses to canneries and dry salteries to those plants already existing and which operated in 1928 or 1929.

He stated it was planned the restriction of licenses would also apply to plants operated for the reduction of pickled and herring, but would not affect salmon trollers or fresh fish dealers.

ESTION OF EXPENSE: Mr. Howe asked the meeting if the industry would be willing that

Two boys, both of them much larger than Millard, stood in the center of the group, glaring at each other. Their fists were clenched. The smaller children, standing about, looked frightened. There were no grown-ups in the room.

Millard pushed his way through the group. Then he stepped in fearfully between the two big boys. "Aren't you ashamed?" he asked gravely. "Fighting like this? You'd better stop!"

The two boys were so surprised that they let their hands fall to their sides. Then the rest of the party stepped in, and the fight was broken up. Millard went shyly back to his corner.

Millard Fillmore, born January 7, 1800, became president of the United States.

Sir Thomas
Recalls Tip
Of Sixpence

London, Jan. 7.—The question of "tipping," which has again been discussed in the press, recalls an experience of Sir Thomas Lipton.

When crossing the Atlantic on America Cup business he was his yachting cap. A dignified clergyman mistaking him for one of the deck stewards, called him over.

"Look here, my man," he said, "get me a couple of deck chairs."

Sir Thomas touched his cap and went to get the chairs, and when he had placed them and made the clergyman and his daughter comfortable he got a "tip" of sixpence. He again touched his cap and went away.

Subsequently the clergyman learned who he was, and for the rest of the voyage he used to scuttle off as soon as he saw Sir Thomas in the office. The latter had the coin pierced to wear on his watch chain.

Elgar Writes New Carol For King George

London, Jan. 7.—A new carol to celebrate the King's recovery from illness has been composed by Sir Edward Elgar, Sir Edward was, until recently, Master of the King's Music, and has been closely associated with the music of St. George's Chapel, Windsor.

The carol is entitled "Good Morrow." For a sub-title it has this: "A simple carol for His Majesty's happy recovery." Sir Edward has taken some verses written by George Gascoigne (1540-78) and set them in four-part harmony, the last verse of the carol reads:

"The rainbow bending in the sky,
Bedecked with sunny hues,
Is like the seat of God on high,
And seems to tell these news:
That as thereby He promised
To draw the world no more
So by the blood which Christ hath shed,
We will our health restore."

The carol was given its first performance by the choir of St. George's Chapel, Windsor Castle, at their annual concert Christmas week.

Monocles for Misses

Special Dispatch to The Victoria Times

London, Jan. 7.—London society and fashion have decided that the well-dressed damsel shall sport a monocle in the eye. Strange variations of this single eyeglass have made their appearance adorning fair faces. A plain glass is the commonest design, attached to the dress or coat with a slender black cord, held taut.

"Shoots His Pictures"

Special Dispatch to The Victoria Times

London, Jan. 7.—William Hayter, South London artist, uses a system of painting his pictures employed by no other artist. With a revolver-like instrument he sprays pictures and portraits on his canvas. He can paint a square yard a minute by this system. He has also painted the walls of churches and moving picture houses with his "revolver."

Kills Are Not Scots

Special Dispatch to The Victoria Times

London, Jan. 7.—That characteristic apparel of the Scots, the kilts, are the subject of a dispute as to their origin. An English tailor, it is said in England now, was commissioned to make the first kilts 300 years ago while in camp with General Wade. In those days they were called "feilich bags."

Tar Soles Used To Shoe Geese

London, Jan. 7.—Shoeing geese seems at first an incredible undertaking, but it is one practised extensively at this season in the neighborhood of Vilna, where the birds have been fattening on the vast marshes thereabouts are now ready for driving to distant markets—one of the chief of which is Warsaw, 200 miles away.

To prevent the geese becoming foot-sore, they are made to tread in foot, then on fine sand, until enough of the mixture adheres to the feet to provide a perfectly fitting and durable pair of shoes, in which the long journey can be made in comfort.

Britain's Bootlegging

Special Dispatch to The Victoria Times

London, Jan. 7.—The United States is not the only country which has its bootlegging troubles. England, despite its strict prohibition, is troubled with illicit makers of the hazy liquor. To avoid heavy liquor duties, stills have been found doing business in "cellars and sheds." Like "moonshine" in America, much of the bootleg whisky is of greater strength than that sold legitimately, and it offers an unusual kick.

St. Alban's Ladies' Guild—The annual meeting of St. Alban's Ladies' Guild was held in the church hall on Thursday, Mrs. G. Bridges in the chair. The annual report was read and adopted. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. E. Gough; vice-president, Mrs. Ovenden; secretary, Mrs. Trickett; treasurer, Mrs. Andrews. Arrangements were made for a winter dance to be held on January 15 at 8 o'clock. The Ladies' Guild wish to thank their many friends for the generous support given them during the past year, which was a financial success, and hope to meet them all again during the coming year. After the business meeting refreshments were served.

FIND MASTODON ON DOHENY ESTATE

Scientists all over the continent are greatly interested in the discovery of a complete mastodon skeleton, one of the few perfect skeletons ever found of the gigantic animals that roamed America 25,000 years ago, on an estate of E. L. Doheny, oil magnate, near San Juan Capistrano, Cal. The animal was apparently eleven feet high and fourteen feet long. This picture shows as much of the skeleton as had been excavated. Left to right are: Frank Hogan, attorney for Doheny; J. R. Pemberton, geologist; Doheny and H. E. Leydon, discoverer and excavator of the skeleton.

ambergau announce that practically all seats are sold out for the thirty-two performances in July and August of next year. Most of these seats have been taken by Americans, and officials of other countries have urged additional performances in May, June and September.

THIRTY-FIVE APPEALS

The court proceeded with the settlement of the list for the current sittings, two cases being added and two withdrawn, bringing the total for hearing to thirty-five appeals.

Appeals affecting the Produce Marketing Act now number five, the following additions to-day: C. H. O'Halloran will appear for the respondents, and Harold B. Robertson, K.C. for the Interior Tree, Fruit and Vegetable Board.

Rex vs. John Sullivan and Rex vs. the Christian Community of the Universal Brotherhood were added to the list. Rex vs. Long Hay and Morris vs. Victoria Tile and Brick Supply Company were withdrawn, to be re-argued at the next sitting of the court.

The peremptory list was struck for to-day as follows: Rex vs. Nip Gar, Rex vs. Chun Chai and Rex vs. Hanray. Trial opened in Rex vs. Nip Gar, an appeal by a Chinese woman who was convicted at the Vancouver Assizes on a charge of selling opium to a Chinese informant of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who was said to have used marked money for the purpose.

Family Affair

Special Dispatch to The Victoria Times

London, Jan. 7.—Gillford's alderman, F. F. Smallpiece, has just retired at the age of eighty-six. In 1905 he was elected mayor of the town—the fourteenth of his family to hold the position. The reign of the Smallpiece family of mayors dates back as far as the year 1302.

Master of Animals

Special Dispatch to The Victoria Times

Moscow, Jan. 7.—Vladimir Durov has trained many animals in his collection here to do many unusual things. He has trained a wildcat to mother a mouse; a bear to operate a water pump system; birds to jump on guns as soon as they're fired; wolves to fear sheep; doves to become vicious, and a chimpanzee to write.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Winnipeg, Jan. 7.—Wheat: The general tone to the wheat market was very heavy to-day, with considerable liquidation by tired holders going on. Cables were extremely weak and this started Winnipeg off about one cent lower. Later there was some recovery when offerings dried up and shorts were covering, with some buying against daily bids, but the trade was all local, with the wheat just changing hands at lower levels.

Neither the pool nor other exporters received any business over night or this morning, and seaboard reported the export demand as flat. Liverpool closed 1½ to 2½ lower.

Russia was reported to have sold 1,000 tons of wheat to an English miller and was offering further quantities to the United Kingdom and the continent. With the unexpected Russian offerings hanging over the market and with a very poor foreign demand for North American wheat, it is difficult to hold present prices high. Exports from this side the last six months have been away below normal and there is now no indication that any material improvement will be shown during the last half of the year.

The local demand for cash wheat is very limited, but large holders are not pressing, and consequently only odd cars are traded in, terminals being the principal buyers, with spreads unchanged to a fraction better for some of the lower grades.

Four business continues very dull. A trading position is likely at the present time, but believe wheat should be sold on any good opening.

Coarse grains: The decline in wheat prices pulled these markets down, but slight recoveries from the low spots were made. There was very little doing locally in anything, but some further business in low grade oats and barley to eastern Canada was reported.

Flax: Features, with nothing going on. Offerings light.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

Has Man a More Affectionate Nature Than Woman?—Mistaken View of the Up-to-date Wife Who Dreads Returning to the Farm. Is Practicality Incompatible With Love?

DEAR MISS DIX.—You, Elmer Glyn and others of your profession always make the statement that a wife wants affection and loving words from her husband. All of you say tell your wife you love her, show her that you love her by being affectionate, kiss and pet her, treat her as you did before you were married.

I have found in my own case that this does not work out. My wife is only twenty-nine, but she says that while she loves me, her affectionate days are over, and whenever I attempt to kiss or pet her she asks me to stop. I have made inquiries of married men under thirty-five in six different cities during the last year and found that thirty-one out of forty men who have been married more than six years have had the same experience. Will Irwin says: "Man is innately romantic. Woman is eternally practical." I believe he gets closer to the truth, for I believe that man has a more affectionate nature than woman. Wish you would write in your column just how you arrive at the conclusion in regard to how a married woman wants her husband to treat her.—ALFRED.

Answer.—Undoubtedly there are women who are human icicles just as there are cold-hearted men who neither give nor desire affection, but I hardly think that they exist in the number that would seem to be indicated by the response to your questionnaire on the subject. I base my conclusions that practically all wives hunger and thirst for some definite concrete expression of their husband's love on the thousands upon thousands of letters that come to me from women from all over the country and in which they cry out for love as a starving man does for bread.

These letters are written from the hearts of wives and voice their innermost longing and it is for love. Sometimes these letters are from rich women whose husbands give them everything else on earth but love, and, lacking that, the balance is dust and ashes. "I have a fine house, fine cars, fine clothes, everything that money can buy," a woman will write, "but my husband never shows me any affection. He never gives me a kiss that isn't just a duty kiss, and I would give all of my jewels for just one sign that he really cares for me the way he did before we were married."

Often a poor woman will write that life is hard for her. She has to work beyond her strength. She is overburdened with children. She is always shabby. She never has any pretty clothes, or any of the luxuries that women crave. "But it isn't the poverty, nor the work, nor the hardships that I mind," she will say, "it is my husband's coldness to me. It is his never noticing what I do for him. It is his never giving me a kiss or a caress. It is his never wanting to take me anywhere, even for a walk. It is his being grouchy and surly to me. If he would only show me that he loved me, it would make all that I do worth while."

Judy O'Grady and the Colonel's Lady are the same under the skin, and when they are normal women with warm, loving women's hearts they want love for the love they give, they want some outward and visible manifestation that their husbands still love them and are still glad they married them and that they are still the only women in the world to their husbands. I think the frigidaire ladies you mention are rare and abnormal varieties of their sex, and I am sure that the greatest desire of most wives' hearts is for their husbands to stay perpetual lovers.

Nor do I agree with Mr. Irwin that men as a rule have more affectionate natures than women. I think women crave love more than men do because they live more in their emotions than men do, and because they have fewer interests in life than men have. A man who is married to a cold-natured woman, for instance, does not suffer from her lack of response to his affection as much as a woman would from her husband's failure to return her love because he has other things to think of. He is too busy trying to make a living for his family, he is too busy with his ambitions and his career to have time to brood over his loss. He simply shrugs his shoulders and charges it up to profit and loss, and that's that, while a woman can literally starve to death if her husband fails to feed her on the bread of love. Nor does it devastate a man's life if he misses love altogether, as it does a woman.

The French have a saying that some women are all wives and others are all mothers. Perhaps the women who turn a cold cheek to their husband's kisses lavish all of their tenderness and all their demonstrations of affection upon their babies. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX.—I am a man fifty-five years old and have lost the use of my left hand through an accident. At my age and in my physical condition it is next to impossible to make a new job in a city. I have a little money and wish to buy a small place in the country where we can raise our own food and some chickens and things to sell. I was brought up on a farm and know how to do things. My wife objects and says going back to a farm is going back to grandma's day. Do you think we should do it or not?—HARRY.

Answer.—I think your plan is fine and the most feasible thing to do under the circumstances. It is paying the landlord and the food bill that takes most of our money in cities, and when you can raise your own chickens and butter and eggs and vegetables it doesn't take much to live on.

Tell your wife that the farm has changed since grandma's day. Most of the farmhouses now have electricity in them and radio and phonographs and telephones, and a little car parked in the garage, and a postman coming by every day, and the isolation and the drudgery of farm life is a thing of the past.

But the beauty and the peace and the quiet still remain.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX.—If you were a young man twenty-eight years old and had been engaged to a young lady more than two years who refused to marry you until you had saved up $1,000, wouldn't you think that she didn't have much confidence in you, or that she didn't love you much?—N. W. R.

Answer.—No. I would think that she was a very sensible young woman and one who looked before she leaped, and wanted to try me out and see what sort of a man I was. Evidently she is of the opinion of Mr. Hill, the great railroad builder, who said that the test of a man was his ability to save. If he could save he would be a success. If he could not save he would be a failure as long as he lived.

If I were you, I would begin nursing my dimes and pinching pennies and save up that $1,000 in order to get that level-headed girl. She will make a grand wife and you will end up a rich and respected man in your community. DOROTHY DIX.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

By SISTER MARY

During the winter months, when a cooked cereal appears quite frequently on the breakfast menu, the left-over cereal often is wasted. Human appetites are fickle and it's almost impossible for the cook to gauge the exact amount that will be needed every morning.

If a large amount is left it may be molded, sliced and fried for luncheon. A small amount, even as little as half a cup, can be used in a pudding.

Cereal puddings usually have much food value and should follow a light meal. The dessert should always be planned with consideration of the other foods served and particularly when it combines milk and eggs with a grain product.

Cereal leaves make excellent substitutes for luncheon. Butts and chopped vegetables are used alone or in combination with a "cereal." Milk is used for moisture and eggs to bind the whole much as in a meat loaf. The finely milled and lightly parched cereals make more delicate puddings than the whole-grain and well parched varieties, but almost any kind of grain and condition of milling can be used.

Cereal Pudding

Three-fourths cup left-over cooked cereal, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1 tablespoon melted butter, 2-3 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup stoned and chopped dates.

Beat milk into cereal, beating until perfectly smooth. Add yolk of egg well beaten, sugar, butter, cinnamon and dates. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven. Beat white of egg until stiff, beating in 2 tablespoons powdered sugar and vanilla. Cover pudding with meringue and return to oven for eight minutes to puff and color the meringue. Serve warm or cold.
